

DOUBLE PAY DAY FOR BADGER BOYS

Left State At Time To Interfere With First Disbursement

Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas, Sept. 8.—The Wisconsin and Michigan troops here are in the midst of a good time. Pay day arrived. All of the $10 bills of the community were gathered together and for the last several days they have been put into new but entirely temporary possession of the soldiers.

The Wisconsin boys had two pay days in one for the reason that they left home just at a time to interfere with that occasion there, and you may be sure that the paymaster was very welcome. It is known that it took $85,000 to square Uncle Sam with the Michigan boys but, for some reason, no one seems to know just how much the Wisconsin soldiers put away in their safety boxes.

Waco's two companies of infantry belonging to the Second regiment of the state and who remained on the border when all the other soldiers of the state guardsmen were sent home, have been removed to Camp Mills, New York and soon will be embarked for France. The Wisconsin soldiers here have taken a deep interest in the local military companies of all kinds, eight in all, and the news of their Texas comrades going to soon to the active field has made a deep impression.

There is beginning to gather here a group of men who with all the seriousness evident everywhere are marked by an air that is different. They are officers who have been on the fighting lines in France and who have now been ordered home to give instructions to soldiers and officers in the very latest means of modern warfare.

One of these just arrived is Capt. Allan Briggs, senior aide de camp to Gen. Parker. At the beginning of the war and until last November he was military attache for this government at Vienna. Since that time he has been in the trenches and on the immediate front in France.

In an interview, Capt. Briggs said: "Knowing that we would have to prepare a great army, I spent my time at the real front and in attendance in French and British officers' schools just behind the lines. The necessity for intensive training is upon us.

"Our soldiers must either learn how to fight in this war or every man who does not and who gets to the firing line will die. We are going against something new in warfare and will face the most powerful and thoroughly trained enemy that has ever been fought by any soldiers. The piece of wisdom that I bring is couched in the beginning words of all instruction in the schools over there: 'If you don't know, you get killed.'

Therefore, I say to the American fathers and mothers, you can do the utmost good by not lending a too sympathetic ear to complaints of how hard our boys are being driven by instructors. The hardships that officers deem it best to inflict are necessary and are caused by a desire to instruct so that the best protection to life and limb may be secured.

"Never before has the individual ability of a soldier been of such paramount value and the spirit that can advance its bearer in the face of the awful surroundings that are to be encountered must be that best spirit of American manhood. As an American I say without boast, that spirit alone can defeat the German army."

At Camp MacArthur, it is evident that the strenuous work of the soldiers will be with the bayonet. First will come education then strength, then quickness. It appears that there is much more hand to hand fighting on the front than we have suspected. A man must learn not to miss his thrust; when he grows strong in those muscles that are called upon, he is expected to outlast his antagonist, with quickness, he is expected to get his thrust home first.

"Assault courses are now being prepared at the camp, one for each regiment. They consist of trenches, wire entanglements and other hand leaping with dummies suspended and lying prostrate. The real touch of war will come when the soldiers charge back and forth thru this assault course, giving them every real experience except that of killing an enemy.—Bert R. Burr in Milwaukee Free Press.

REV. BEAUDETTE GOING TO FRANCE

St. Mary's Pastor Joins Regular Army And Will Serve As Chaplain

Rev. W. A. Beaudette, pastor of St. Mary's church, took the examination for army chaplain in Fort Snelling Monday, and passed satisfactorily. He was told he would be commissioned and called to the colors in about ten days. He will be commissioned a first lieutenant in the regular army. He enlisted for the duration of the war and will probably be sent to France in about three months. Chaplains need no special instruction in the training camp. They are provided with horses or can ride on the ambulances at any time.

Father Beaudette has no idea who will be sent to replace him as pastor of St. Mary's church, however, this may be ascertained within a few days. It is not probable that after the war Father Beaudette will return to Rhinelander as his successor will be appointed as permanent pastor.

No arrangements for a farewell gathering in honor of Father Beaudette have yet been made and if his wishes are respected his departure will be without ceremony. He says: "I do not desire any doings over my departure from Rhinelander. The simple life has always appealed to me in preference to pyrotechnics."

MEET FRIDAY TO FORM NEW GUARD

Friday night at the Armory a meeting will be held for the purpose of arranging for the organization of the new state guard in this city. E. O. Brown and C. P. Crosby, who are responsible for the selection of Rhinelander for a state guard company, will address the meeting.

Mr. Brown stated Wednesday that this company will probably be for service within the state only. He urges all eligible men to apply for membership. He is especially anxious that the young men subject to draft join this company and receive the benefit of many months' military training before they are called to army duty.

Attend Friday night's meeting. It is your duty as a patriotic citizen.

OLD NORTH SIDE RESIDENT GONE

John Nysted died at the home of his son-in-law Nick Norbeck, on Messer street last Thursday at the advanced age of nearly ninety years.

John Nysted was a native of Norway and he was born in Aamot the 14th of November, 1827. In 1893 he emigrated to America and came to Rhinelander where he has resided ever since. He was always in good health until about two and a half years ago, when he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. From its effects he never recovered.

He leaves to mourn him a daughter, Mrs. N. Norbeck of this city and a son Alex Johnson who resides in Washington.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Norwegian Lutheran church.

P. O. GAINS BIG

Postmaster Matt Stapleton reports a large increase in the business of the Rhinelander postoffice during the last few years. He produces figures which show a gain of close to $800 in stamp receipts in August this year over that of August 1914.

In August 1914 the stamp sales were $1,600.77 and August 1917 were $2,366.67. As steady a growth is shown in all branches of the local office.

ONEIDA FAIR PLEASURES PATRONS

Oneida county's twenty-second annual fair is now a matter of history. That it was one of the most satisfactory fairs in the annals of the county is the verdict of the Agricultural Association officials and the hundreds of people from this city and all parts of the county who attended.

President F. T. Coon and Secretary Arthur Taylor are pleased with the success of the fair and heartily thank the people of city and county for their splendid cooperation.

The exhibits at the fair this year, while not as large in some departments as shown at previous fairs, were very good and indicated the rapid strides which Oneida county is making along all lines of farming. The amusement features were of a high class and delighted the patrons. Some good horse racing was seen. The crowds were large and enthusiastic and represented every section of the county as well as portions of neighboring counties.

CITY BAND ESCORTS PHILIPP

At the state fair, Wednesday, the Rhinelander City Band had the honor of escorting Governor E. L. Philipp to the speaker's platform, in front of the grand stand, where he made an address. Today's Milwaukee Sentinel said:

"The party was escorted by the Rhinelander band, playing 'On Wisconsin' and its arrival at the track entrance was heralded by a salute of aerial bombs fired from the infield."

The Rhinelander City Band, under the direction of E. E. Hick, left Tuesday night to fill its three days' engagement at the Wisconsin state fair. In accordance with its contract with the fair management the band paraded through the principal streets Tuesday afternoon. In the evening a splendid concert was given at the court house.

Several of the leading lands in Wisconsin are in Milwaukee this week and there is little question but that the local band will rank high with the best of them. The appearance of the band at the state fair is a splendid advertisement for Rhinelander.

Parts of Oneida county are exceptionally well fitted for sheep raising and it is believed that in time this will become an important industry here. Messrs. Juday and Barstow will let the sheep men know all about it.

LAND TRAIN IS COMING SEPT. 27

Demonstrations Of Clearing Will Be Given Here On Three Days

More land will be cleared in Wisconsin this fall than has been cleared in several years ever before.

This estimate is supported by reports coming from every section visited by the state's land clearing train on its tour of many of the counties in Wisconsin's cut-over belt.

At every point along the itinerary of the "stumping special" the interest in the demonstration of clearing, cheaper, and better ways of clearing, and the importance of clearing, and settling the fertile tracts which heretofore have been allowed to remain idle—more than 1,600 people saw one of the Barnett county demonstrations. At one point more than 200 automobiles and 50 teams brought visitors from the home and adjoining counties. At another center the demonstration resulted in the immediate organization of a land clearing association. The settlers who joined this organization agreed to purchase, co-operatively, a stump puller and piler and the necessary power; to operate in partnership and to profit together by the united effort.

People from other states are taking interest in the state's land clearing program. The present campaign is being closely watched by not only farmers, but by bankers and agricultural officials throughout the country. The members of the Federal Farm Loan Bank, of St. Paul, after inspecting the work expressed their confidence in the future of land clearing and the development of this northern country.

The series of demonstrations now in progress were provided for by the last legislature for the purpose of developing and demonstrating the best methods of land clearing in the various sections of upper Wisconsin. Four different types of stump pullers are in use at each of these demonstrations. Dynamite is being used separately and in connection with the stump pullers and information is being gathered on land clearing which will be available for the residents of the state.

The special will be in this city and county on September 27, 29.

The train will also visit the following points:

Washburn, Bayfield county, Sept. 17-22; Rhinelander, Oneida county, Sept. 27-29; Phelps, Vilas county, Oct. 1-6; Laona, Forest county, Oct. 10-15; Mercer, Iron county, Sept. 12-13.

BRAKEMAN IS INJURED

Ole Paulson, a brakeman on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, is at an Antigo hospital with a fractured skull, as the result of being struck with the end of an air hose. The accident occurred at Pelican Lake, while the young man was trying to uncouple the hose. The pressure of the air caused the iron coupler on the end of the air hose to fly up, striking him on the head.

NEW SCHOOL AT JEFFRIS

A new brick veneer school house is being built at Jeffris, Lincoln county.

The fair will be concluded with a dance in the evening at the Town Hall. Splendid music is being arranged for.

Remember the date, Saturday, September 29.

GILLIGAN PUTS ON FORD RACE

An interesting number on Friday's program at the Oneida county fair was the Ford race arranged by Will Gilligan of the Oneida garage, who offered a purse of $25. In the event six cars participated and the drivers pulled off some regular Barney Oldfield stuff in their whirl around the track. First prize went to Jay Russ, second to William Gross and third to Albert Briggs.

In the horse races Friday afternoon Scorcher, a Black River Falls horse, came in for first money in the 2:30 pace. James Murphy's "Mile" won second and Dolly B. owned by Dr. P. E. Kabel, won third.

$50 FINES FOR TWO GUIDES

H. J. Oberholtzer, conservation warden from Eagle River, was here Monday, having in custody Joe Burke, a guide from the Three Lakes district, who was charged with operating without a license. Burke is a well known guide of fifteen years experience. He had been repeatedly cautioned and had been arrested before for game law violation. For his latest offense, guiding without a license, he was fined $50.00 and costs in Judge Smith's court.

Burke is an expert guide, one of the best in the business, but he failed to grasp the intent of the new guide law as it was drawn up and is now in force.

Edward Uhl, another guide, was brought to Rhinelander by Warden Oberholtzer Saturday and was fined $50 for the same offense.

WHY WE ARE NERVOUS

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when strength is declining the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability, and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and so feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force.

SOLDIER WRITES OF WACO TRIP

George Campbell of Three Lakes Sends Parents Fine Descriptive Letter

(Continued from last issue) George A. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Campbell of Three Lakes, writes his parents the following letter descriptive of the trip from Camp Douglas to Waco, Tex. The young man is a member of Company H, 4th Wis. Infantry; Co. H, 4th Wis. Inf.

At Okaloosa, Mo., we passed some brick yards, and at Mulberry, Mo., were some surface coal mines. We crossed the state into Kansas about 7:05 P. M. Sunday, Aug. 19. We got into Pittsburg, Kansas, about 7:35 in the evening and got off there for a hike to timber our muscles. There were many girls in their teens, to see us off. Many of the boys gave addresses and got them.

Now, our mail contains a great many letters and cards from towns along our route. We left Pittsburg about 8:30 P. M. Soon after we left there, we went to sleep still in Kansas and woke up in Oklahoma about 5:30 A. M. Aug. 20.

We crossed the Arkansas river at Redland, Oklahoma, about 5:30 A. M. The river was very muddy where we crossed it. The soil there was red clay, and quite rocky in places. There were many large fields of corn and some sugar cane and lots of cotton. We had a hike and breakfast at Heavener, Oklahoma, about 8:15 A. M. We changed engines and train crews there. The engine we got was a big one. It had two sets of drive wheels, six in each set, and three on each side.

We crossed the Poteau river at Poteau, Oklahoma, and the Black Fork river at Joe, Okla. We started into the Ozark Mountains at Thomassville, Okla. There was much Norway pine and oak in the foot hills. The track was so crooked that we could look ahead and count the cars all the way from our engine to our train crew's caboose. The farms in the Ozarks are small, mostly gardens. The air in the Ozarks was cool and clear.

We stopped at Mena, Ark., for water. Mena is a city of about 3000 people and the county seat of Polk. At Hatfield, Ark. there were many old formations of reddish brown rock.

Vandervoort, Ark., is a little over four hundred miles from Kansas City, Mo. It took us about 24 hours to make that distance. At Kings, Ark., the soil is red clay. The timber is pine and oak. The railroad runs over many hills and has many sharp curves. We didn't travel faster than about twenty miles per hour here.

At 12:45 A. M. we stopped at Dequeen, Ark. This place is 431 miles from Kansas City. We changed engines and crews there. The population of the town is about 3500. We crossed Bear Creek just south of the town. The water appears to be quite oily. The soil is clay here and the roads are very poor, barely more than trails. The timber is willow, poplar, oak and pine. There is lots of corn and cotton. There are many dead trees standing in the fields. We saw some cypress there and lots of ivy clinging to the trees.

We saw some saw mills along the track in and on this side of the Ozark Mountains. They were mostly real small mills. There were some flour mills also. But this side of the Ozarks we saw lots of corn, sugar cane, mules and negroes and cotton; some peanuts and quite a few fields of yams or sweet potatoes. About 3 o'clock Monday afternoon we crossed the Red River of the south. Along the railroad track on each side of the river we saw mile after mile of corn and cotton. We arrived at Texarkana, Ark., about 3:30 Monday afternoon.

We detrained there and marched through the streets for exercise. When we got back on the train, we brought lots of watermelons with us, also lots of fruit. After we entrained we had dinner and it is a great wonder that none of us were sick. Half of Texarkana is in Arkansas, and half in Texas, therefore the name. Some of the boys get letters from that place and some of them postmarked in Texas and part in Arkansas. In the northern part of Texas the land is low, water standing in the woods in many places. The soil is clay and about as red as iron ore. At Corley, Texas, we saw lots of oak, elm, butternut, hickory, pine and cypress. Lots of corn, cane, cotton, peanuts, watermelons and negroes. About 7:00 P. M. we passed thru Omaha, Texas. It was a fair sized town with electric lights and some machine shops. At Texarkana our train was switched onto the Cotton Belt route.

Monday night about 7:30, we pulled into Mount Pleasant, Texas. We stopped there for something. There were many people, especially girls, out to see us. We left there about 8:15 P. M.

We arrived at Pittsburg, Texas, about 8:45 P. M. It is a good sized town. As Monday was our last night on the train, we sang and raised plenty of rough house. Rough and tumble, wrestling in our chair car. We passed through Big Sandy, Texas, about 10:15 Monday night. About 3:00 A. M. Tuesday we passed through quite a large city. We stopped there quite a while. Very few of us were awake and none of us could find out what the name of the town was. We were awakened about 5:20 A. M. Tuesday. We got to Waco about 5:30, had an early breakfast and were all ready to move at 6:30. We crossed the Brazos river in the outskirts of the town.

The water is low and muddy. Waco is quite a large place. There are many industries. Waco is about 1500 miles from Rhinelander Wis. We arrived on the grounds at 8:15 A. M. It was quite hot. But it rained later in the day, the first time for four months. We have been told that since we came here the weather is the coolest it has been for three weeks. The heat does not bother us much but if our ice water runs out, we have to drink the water from the artesian wells. The wells are from 1500 to 3000 feet deep, and the temperature of the water when it comes from the ground is from 110 degrees to 150 degrees Fahrenheit. It is from 95 degrees to 105 degrees in the shade, and no shade. The artesian water doesn't quench one's thirst. When around camp, you can hear from every direction, the explanation, "Oh, for a drink of Wisconsin spring water."

It is quite cool here during the night. We sleep with all sides of our tents rolled up the most of the time. During the day whenever a cloud goes in front of the sun, the wind becomes cool and refreshing. A few days ago a company of negroes at Houston, Texas, broke loose and killed their captain. In the 21st regiment of U. S. regulars, there are 600 negroes and they are all here at Waco. A few nights ago the negroes broke loose and now no young girl in Waco is allowed to go out at night without one of the other of her parents. It is rumored that the city here will soon be under martial law. I don't know how true this report is. As there is no more news to report, I will close with love to all.

NEW PHELPS MILL STARTS OCT. 15

C. M. Christiansen, superintendent of the Hackley-Phelps Company while in Eagle River Friday evening, expressed his opinion unless something unusual happened the new sawmill of that company now under erection at Phelps will begin active operations October fifteenth.

It goes without saying that the company is putting the finishing touches to a model mill building which is equipped with the most modern machinery for the manufacture of lumber and other products.

The company, according to Mr. Christiansen are already hiring all the men they can get hold of and are paying top wages.—Vilas Co. News.

MINOCQUA

(Minocqua Times)

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wasserburger, recently married have moved into their new home on Parke Ave. The residence which was furnished but a short time ago is one of the finest homes in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Schilling left Tuesday evening for Milwaukee where they will remain for the winter while Earle is in attendance at Marquette University. Mr. Schilling has turned over his fire insurance business to Frank L. Schilling and his life insurance business to Lyle F. Schilling.

D. H. Jossart went to Chicago Monday to have an operation performed on his throat. He will remain about a week stopping at Milwaukee on his return trip.

The local high and graded schools started their sessions Tuesday with about the usual enrollment. The enrollment in the grades show a slight decrease from last year but it is expected that late enrollment will bring this number some higher than previous years.

The number of pupils enrolled in high school totals 55, there being 17 freshmen, 13 sophomores, 11 juniors and 11 seniors. The total enrollment will be some over 60.

ball meeting on the first afternoon of school. About 20 reported and all showed considerable enthusiasm. It is expected that there will be enough candidates for positions to make up two teams for practice. Earl Kennedy who showed up exceptionally well in last year's games was elected captain and Gerald Boileau student manager. The management is now arranging for a full schedule of games with big high schools in this section.

EAGLE RIVER

(Vilas County News)

N. F. Niederlander is somewhat inclined to doubt the assertions made him in years gone by that the average deer are so timid they "beat it" instantly at the approach of man. The Niederlander summer home is located on Catfish lake four miles east of Eagle River. Saturday two beautiful fawns in the spotted coat came into the yard and spent some length of time near the garage, evidently for the purpose of learning the make of car owned by the St. Louis gentleman. Mr. Niederlander state that almost every night deer investigate his garden. This is done evidently for the purpose of watching the growth of his choice garden truck which he will enter at the Vilas county fair September 20.

A crew of men arrived yesterday from Wausau and have begun the building of a concrete dam on Seven-mile creek east of Long lake on the upper Eagle chain. The dam will have a head of 4.10.

This crew will also put in a new dam at the source of the Wisconsin river at Lac Vieux Desert as soon as they finish the Seven-mile dam.

The Wisconsin Valley Improvement company is having the work done.

W. A. Hoy of lake Mamie west of State Line has been making several trips to Eagle River the past week securing treatment for a cut hand. According to his statement he was gored by a Ford, but his cut resulted from running his hand through the glass of one of the headlights while cranking his car.

Lloyd Raymond, after a week's visit at Eagle River with home people took train at Woodruff Sunday night for International Falls, Minnesota, where he holds a good position. He will try for the marine service. He was accompanied by Woodruff by his father W. B. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gander Jr., and Miss Fern Scott in the Raymond car.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Blohm of Conover to Wilson G. Wilman of Curtis, Michigan occurred Monday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Blohm of Conover. The young people will, after a honeymoon trip take up housekeeping at Pontiac, Mich.

On account of having put too keen an edge on a camp axe and too much "pep" on the swing H. McIntyre is using a pair of crutches as a result of a bad cut in one of his feet, the accident having happened last week Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Olson, who for the past three years has been unable to walk due to a protracted sick spell, came home Saturday from the Rochester hospital where an operation was performed. There is an assurance that she will recover the use of her limbs.

Because a man is permitted by his wife to sit out on the front porch and smoke his pipe he tries to give the impression that he is boss of the ranch.—Florida Times-Union.

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

About time for someone to predict "a short, mild winter."

Nothing like blowing your own horn. This city is being advertised at the state fair this week by one of the best bunch of horn tooters in Wisconsin, the Rhinelander City Band.

Oneida county's state fair exhibit is said to be one of the finest in the county building. This sounds good, and especially to our farmers, who deserve credit for the progress they have made and are making in every branch of their pursuit. Along agricultural lines even some of the older settled counties have nothing on Oneida.

UNDUE PAPER PROFITS

The United States senate stands about one to four to make a large assessment on the war profits to pay the costs of the war. England requires 80% of undue war revenues for war purposes. The majority in the United States senate refuses to make war profits pay even half their earnings. To show the masses what the war has done for the American Writing Paper Co. in 1911, 1912, 1913, their profits were $125,430. In 1916 they were $2,524,378. The International Paper Co., which furnishes news print, earned an average of $1,105,913 in 1911, 1912, 1913. In 1916 their profits were $1,620,727. Why should not these big industries, earning undue profits, pay a good war tax?

FROST DAMAGE

Our entire locality was struck by frost Sunday night. Heavy frosts in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin Sunday night caused damage to crops and gardens that will reach millions of dollars.

Dispatches from Minnesota indicate that the corn was hard hit, estimates of the loss ranging all the way from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000 in that state alone.

Losses in Michigan are estimated as high as $30,000,000.

In Wisconsin heavy damage to potatoes and corn resulted, some experts holding that half of the corn was ruined.

INCOME REGISTER DAY

Why shouldn't we have an income registration day just as we had a military registration day on which every American would be obliged under heavy penalties to declare the amount of his income with as heavy penalties for fraud and evasion as the conscription act contained and just as drastically enforced?

Uncle Sam would then know exactly how many dollars could be drawn on by taxation this year to help pay the war's cost, and it would be the simplest matter in the world with all this exact information in hand to figure out what the income tax rates on each particular class of incomes would have to be to produce the sum that is needed to be raised.

Every man's self interest would drive him to help make this registration complete, for he would know that if his neighbor was a slacker on income registration day, it would make the tax rate on his self that much higher, just as the self interest of every man made him active to see that no one escaped military registration, because every man that slacked by so much increased the chances of early draft for all the others.—Wisconsin State Journal.

Are dollars more precious than lives? If not subject dollars to the same test that lives are put.

Possible Move.

A Len walked into a country bank.

"Wonder what she wants?" laughed a banker.

"Maybe she wants to deposit an egg to somebody's credit," suggested the teller.—Spokane Review.

WANTS CHANGE IN STOCKHOLM

So serious does President Wilson regard Sweden's violation of neutrality in the Argentine affair that he will be satisfied with no action short of a change in the personnel of the Stockholm government which will eliminate the pro-German officials who have made their country the accomplice of the Prussian autocracy in war plots against American states.

This disclosure was made in connection with information that the three messages made public by Secretary of State Lansing constitute only a small part of the evidence that the Swedish government has been acting regularly as the channel of secret communication between Berlin and German envoys and agents in neutral countries.

The state department has the German text of nearly seventy messages sent by Count Luxburg, the German charge d'affaires at Buenos Aires, to Berlin through the Swedish legation and the Stockholm foreign office.

For many months the administration has had ample evidence that the ruling element in Stockholm at present is pro-German.

ROADS REDUCE PASSENGER TRINS

Since the war began more than four months ago, railroads operating in the Central, Southern and Western military departmental divisions have reduced passenger train service 8,600,000 miles. This fact was brought out at the last weekly meeting of the committee on car service held in St. Paul.

The states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and Montana are among those included in this territory. The action was taken by the Railroad's War Board to conserve man-power, fuel and locomotives in order that the carriers might better aid the government in conducting the war, according to G. W. Murnane, secretary of the Twin City railway body.

Co-operation is being manifested by the various railway commissions in helping the roads to carry out their policy. So far it has not been deemed expedient to take off long distance trains. The railway executives are making every possible effort to reduce this service in such away as will not inconvenience the traveling public.

HUNT WITH DOGS; GET BIG FINES

For hunting deer with dogs William Schoenfeldt and Charles Kampke of Three Lakes were fined $50 and $30 and costs respectively in municipal court Wednesday. The offenders were arrested by Conservation Wardens Gwidt and McKenzie.

These two wardens are exceeding in active and are accomplishing a great deal toward checking game law violations in this part of Wisconsin. They have a large number of arrests and convictions to their credit.

He (a former suitor)—So you are married after all. You told me once that you never intended to belong to any man. She—Well, that remark still holds good. He—But your husband? She—Oh, he belongs to me.

"Now, Robert," said the teacher, "can you tell me what human nature is?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied Robert. "It's people 'fore they get into society."—Chicago News.

WEEK'S WEDDINGS

Hampton Welch
The marriage of Mrs. Jessie R. Hampton and Dr. Thomas H. Welch of this city took place Monday at Bessemer, Mich. They will soon commence housekeeping in the Lee residence at 115 E. King. The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Welch extend best wishes.

Swails Meredith
"Lake View", the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swails at Roosevelt, was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday evening, when their youngest daughter, Hazel Marie, and Earl Meredith, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Meredith of Starks, were united in marriage in the presence of forty relatives and friends.

The hall and rooms were decorated in gold and white with ferns and evergreens.

At eight o'clock Rev. B. G. Clemens performed the ceremony beneath an arch of evergreens and ferns from which hung a large bell covered with white water lilies. The attendants were Miss Carrie Swails, sister of the bride, and Willis Meredith, a brother of the groom.

The ring ceremony was used. The bride was gowned in white embroidered net and satin. The veil was held close over the head with a band of white net and sweet peas. The bouquet was of bridal roses with a shower of sweet peas.

The bride is one of Roosevelt's popular young women. She is a graduate of the Rhinelander high school and spent one year at the Oshkosh normal. She spent the past year in teaching.

The groom has lived the last five years at Starks, where he is a prosperous young farmer.

Following the wedding an elegant three course dinner was served. The dining room was beautifully decorated with goldenrods.

The young couple left for Milwaukee and Chicago where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be at home October fifteenth at Starks.

Corporal Bodwin Weds

At St. Mary's church Sunday afternoon Father W. A. Beaudette performed the ceremony which joined in wedlock Miss Henrietta Hein and John Bodwin. The young couple were attended by the groom's sister, Miss Lucy Bodwin, and Homer McLaughlin.

Following the wedding a dinner and reception were given for the newly weds at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bodwin, parents of the groom, in the town of Pine Lake. A large number of relatives and friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodwin are well and favorably known in this city and have a retinue of friends who wish them well. They departed Sunday night for Camp Douglas where he is a member of the sanitary corps.

Surprise Their Friends

Miss Margaret Duffy and Clyde Wilcox of this city put one over on their many friends Friday when they quietly slipped away to Bessemer, Mich., and were united in marriage. The wedding came as a complete surprise.

The bride is an esteemed young lady and was until recently numbered among the efficient teachers of this county. She is a graduate of the Rhinelander high school and Oneida county training school.

Mr. Wilcox is a most excellent young man for whom the future holds bright prospects. He is affiliated with one of this city's big lumber concerns. To him and his bride congratulations are extended.

Music Kills Men Young.

Painting and sculpture are conducive to long life. Yet music kills men young. Schubert, with all his wealth of song, died at thirty-one; Mozart, who danced and laughed his melodies into being, died at thirty-five, the same age as Bellini; Bizet, the composer of "Carmen," died, like Purcell, at thirty-seven; Mendelssohn survived to thirty-eight; Chopin, who loved life so well, had done with it at thirty-nine, while Weber expired at the age of forty and Schumann at forty-six. But Verdi lived and flourished as a nonagenarian.

UNLAWFUL TO KILL PARTRIDGE

S. J. Gwidt, conservation warden, calls attention to the following new sections of the state game law, with which many sportsmen of this city and county may not be familiar:

Partridge, Grouse and Prairie Chickens are protected in all counties until the fall of 1919.

Opening Date for Aquatic Fowl, under both the state and the federal laws open on Sept. 7 in the fall of 1917. In the fall of 1918 the federal law open the hunting season on September 15. Wisconsin must extend the state laws opening the date to conform with the federal law. This will be done under Section 29.21, Chapter 668, Laws of 1917.

Number of Artificial Decoys that may be used. In one section of the new law it stipulates 25, in another section 50. Because of this discrepancy 30 decoys may be used, but same must have leg band attached showing same to be registered with this department. Registration fee 10 cents for each bird. 5 live duck decoys may be used.

Deer Hunting and Shipping. Last 10 days of November, December 1 and 2 allowed as days of grace to ship deer. Carcasses must be accompanied by shipper. On resident tags deer may be shipped to points within the state only, on non-resident tags to points within or without the state.

AFFAIRS IN RUSSIA

Gen. Korniloff, commander in chief of the Russian armies, has been summarily dismissed, and Deputy Lvoff of the duma has been arrested. Korniloff, it is reported, also will be arrested. Both face charges of conspiracy and treason, with the death penalty for conviction.

Premier Kerensky's proclamation dismissing Korniloff named Gen. Klembovsky as his successor and declared martial law in the town and district of Petrograd.

Great precautions have been taken to check any efforts Gen. Korniloff may make to send troops to this city.

Russia is today facing the most serious crisis since the overthrow of the monarchy, and Gen. Korniloff is charged as having brought this condition about by demanding through Lvoff, that Premier Kerensky surrender all power into Korniloff's hands.

Amazed at the demand, Kerensky ordered Lvoff seized. After being subjected to severe questioning Lvoff gave out the details of the conspiracy, which the government declares to be a deliberate attempt by a small group of leading men to seize the government and restore a despotic regime.

The provisional government is facing the possibility of civil war.

Health Culture

As time changes, methods of business and industry of living change also. In this modern age the farmer has learned to apply machinery to his farm and has come to view agriculture as a science. He has his Farmer's Institutes, and his County Representative of Agriculture.

Farm sanitation and hygiene when applied to crops and cattle have a new meaning to the farmer. To drain a field, to erect a silo, to put a cement floor and ventilation system in a barn, all of which would have been derided by the old time farmer, appear to his grandson as a good business procedure. For the expense of installation he expects to reap many fold in profits. Competition has forced the farmer to introduce modern methods. If he fails to keep up to the pace set by a more progressive neighbor his financial loss is apparent to all.

Just as surely the farmer is seeking to a realization of the fact that rural sanitation applies to his farm as well as to his barn; that fresh air, of which there is such an abundant supply in the country, is as necessary to the health of his family as it is to the health of his chickens and cattle. Cows, swine and poultry are so healthful and productive because of the healthful and productive air of the country. The farmer is seeking to a realization of the fact that rural sanitation applies to his farm as well as to his barn; that fresh air, of which there is such an abundant supply in the country, is as necessary to the health of his family as it is to the health of his chickens and cattle. Cows, swine and poultry are so healthful and productive because of the healthful and productive air of the country.

The good things that we have always with us are and to be underestimated and neglected. Sunlight may cost a faded carpet; fresh air, a few more shovels, full of coal. But what of that if they purchase health?

THERE'S A PLENTY

Eat potatoes and save bread, says government expert. The huge potato crop which the Federal forecast indicates will be produced in the United States this year means that this important food staple will be cheaper, and makes it possible says the United States Department of Agriculture for American families that had to cut down on potatoes because of high prices to restore the tuber to a prominent place on their bill of fare. The department forecast, based on reliable estimates from all parts of the country places the total potato yield at more than 167 million bushels as compared with 285 million in 1916 and 360 million in 1915. Potatoes of the current season are already in the market in large quantities, and, since the early harvested tubers can not be kept easily, should be eaten more abundantly now if spoilage is to be avoided.

FALL PLOWING

When the produce is all harvested from your garden this fall, have it plowed. Teams are easier to procure now. The ground will work easier in the spring. It will be free from weeds and it will give better returns next season.

The garden acreage in incorporated cities in Wisconsin is this year increased 55% over 1916. The 1918 acreage should not be less. It should show an increase over 1917. One step in the right direction is fall plowing.

Some municipalities have already made plans to furnish city teams to plow gardens at cost. Others will no doubt take similar action.

The Trouble

"Such a large proportion of telephone operators get married before they have been long in the service. I see it is hardly a case of sing before it's rizz on."—Baltimore American.

The pomegranate was early cultivated in Egypt; hence the complaint of the Israelites in the wilderness of Zin that this "is no place of figs, or of vines, or of pomegranates."

ORGANIZE SECOND FOREST REGIMENT

Woodsmen And Mill Men Are Urged To Join For Service In France

The formation of a second "Forest" regiment comprising ten battalions and composed of lumbermen and woodworkers, who will go to France and get out of the forests materials for the use of the American, French, and British armies, has been authorized by the War Department, it was announced today. Two battalions are to be raised at once with the active aid of the Forest Service, the Department of Agriculture. It is expected that the remaining eight battalions will be called for in a short time. Nine "service" battalions made up of laborers who will be used in connection with the Forest Service, have also been authorized and two battalions have been ordered raised at once.

In order to provide for future contingencies it has been decided to commission at the present time enough officers for other battalions yet to be raised. Those men not needed now will be placed on the reserve, and will be called as the other units are formed. According to the present plan, fifty per cent of the officers will be sawmill and logging operators, twenty-five per cent will be technical foresters, and twenty-five per cent will be men with military training. A number of the graduates of the engineering camps have been selected for service with the new units.

A considerable number of captains and lieutenants is to be selected in the immediate future. The minimum age limit for commissioning officers has been set at 31.

A first regiment of woodsmen numbering about 1,200 men and designated as the Tenth Engineers (Forest) has already been recruited and assembled and is now being trained at American University, D. C. This regiment was raised at the request of the British government to undertake the production in France of cross-ties, bridge, trench, and construction timbers, mine props, lumber, and other forms of wood required in connection with its military operations. The landing of the American expeditionary force has made necessary similar provision for their needs, while the French military authorities have indicated that some of the work incidental to their operations might be taken over by woodsmen from this country. Decision to raise the new and much larger force has followed a study of the field of possible usefulness to the allied cause, made by American foresters attached to General Pershing's staff. Each of the ten battalions of the second regiment will comprise three companies of 250 men each, and will be under the command of its own major.

The regiment will be made up of volunteers. Applicants must be white and between the ages of 19 and 40. Skilled lumberjacks, portable mill operators, the cutters, logging teamsters, camp cooks, millwrights, and charcoal burners are among the classes of men desired. For the "service" battalions both negro and white laborers will be enlisted.

NEWSY NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

Washburn—
The City Council seems to be in a quandary as to just how many Police Chiefs it has. Two men claim to hold the position—A. M. Kerr who was appointed nearly two years ago but who was dismissed by Mayor MacLeod and Chief Markey who was appointed to the position. Kerr claims the Mayor had no legal right to dismiss him without charges and a hearing and he continues to present his claims for salary.

New London—
Paul D. ew, a farmer living near Clintonville, while returning to his home saw a band of gypsies leaving the farmhouse. Upon making a search of his house Mr. Drew discovered that two gold watches, a suit of clothes and some soap were missing. He followed the gypsies in to Clintonville and had them arrested. A search of their belongings failed to disclose anything more than the soap so they were placed in the city jail until Monday morning. They pleaded not guilty, so due to the lack of evidence, they were fined $5 and costs and ordered to leave town. This band is the same one that was ordered out of New London by Chief Luck.

AshlandK
The re-seizure by United States officers of the team and rig belonging to Peter Jensen, local livestockman, marks the first time in northern Wisconsin that the new federal law of March 2, this year, has been invoked against the owner of a vehicle taken in connection with violation of the laws affecting liquor on reservations. Deputy U. S. Marshal W. T. Pugh made the re-seizure after Jensen had succeeded in replevining the outfit from Ed. Pocknett, Indian policeman, and Arthur A. Dolan, Indian farmer, on the reservation at Odanah. It is alleged that Jensen let his rig for the purpose of taking some persons to Odanah, and that when they were searched by the reservation officers one of the passengers was found to have a bottle of liquor in his possession. The entire outfit was at once seized in the name of the United States and held until replevined Undersheriff Dornady going from here for the purpose after the writ was issued. Frank Lamoreaux has been acting as attorney for Jensen.

Ironwood—
Lieutenant Bonner, who is located at Duluth, is in charge of the movement for the conscription of all the men who are British subjects in this part of the northwest, was in the city Tuesday and made a short address before the Ironwood Commercial Club. He said that preparations for the conscription of all British subjects in the United States who claimed exemption from the draft army on account of being aliens, have been started and that the work will be thoroughly done. This means that all British and Canadian aliens who have been exempted from the National army by the local boards on account of their foreign citizenship will have to join the service in their own countries, or suffer deportation from the United States, as soon as the reciprocal agreement now pending in the senate and which is certain to be passed within a few days, becomes a law.

Robert Joseph Georges is the second native of Iron River to lose his life battling for the cause of the Allies on European battlefields. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Georges, were natives of France and came to Iron River about 25 years ago, and most of their children, including their son, Robert, were born and reared here. About six years ago the family moved to South Slovan, British Columbia. The war was not long in progress when Mr. Georges, though at the time 51 years of age, made up his mind to enlist, and his second son, Robert, a strapping lad of nineteen, enlisted with him. The boy became a member of a machine gun company and in the great battle of the Somme, on October 31, 1916, he was wounded. He was cared for in England and last April, at his request, was returned to the battle fields, and on June 6th received wounds which proved fatal two days later.

Bagdad In Decay.

Dirty, neglected and in decay, Bagdad retains scarcely a trace of the splendor which was hers in the days of good Haroun-al-Raschid. It was then on the western bank of the Tigris, and an old writer described it with pardonable exaggeration as being of all cities in the world the happiest and richest in gold. On the eastern bank was the suburb. But in the eleventh century the court was moved across the river, and the city and suburb changed relations. Today the old Bagdad is in ruins, and the city on the eastern bank sadly needs the improving touch of western civilization.—London Chronicle.

Historic Peronne.

Many years ago Peronne, in France, was a great fortress. For 600 years or so it boasted itself Peronne la Pucelle, a maiden city, which had never surrendered or been conquered. Readers of Sir Walter Scott's "Quentin Durward" will remember the little town "situated upon a deep river in a fat country," the "ancient walls and deep green meadows," to which Quentin came with his lady Isabel, to find souls XI. In the grip of Charles the Bold. In the castle King John of France slept before the battle of Poitiers, and 400 years earlier another king of France, Charles the Simple, was starved to death there.

Snakes Are Great Fasters.

Snakes, though at times they gorge themselves, are great fasters. In the French museum an anaconda twenty feet long was a very small feeder, though he gained in weight. Taken there in 1885, he had only thirty-four meals during the next five years, consisting of a small goat or a few rabbits. The interval between these meals varied from 23 to 204 days. He would not touch food unless he was in real need of it, and it was only by watching and noting when he seemed to be uneasy that his keepers could conclude that he was hungry. During the long fast, which was in 1886, many efforts were made to tempt or force him to eat without the least success.

How Icelanders Tie Horses.

The Icelanders have a strange but effective plan for preventing horses straying away from any particular spot. If two gentlemen happen to be riding without attendants and wish to leave their horses for any reason they tie the head of one horse to the tail of the former. In this state it is utterly impossible for the horses to move on, either backward or forward. If disposed to move at all it will be only in a circle, and even then there must be mutual agreement to turn their heads the same way.

"Life is made up of one darned thing after another," remarked Congressman Hammatt sadly.

"I seem to have heard that before," said the loyal constituent. "Perhaps you have," admitted the distinguished statesman, "but if you held my job representing that bunch of kickers down home, all of whom want jobs with big salaries and no duties, you would realize that the author of the epigram knew what he was talking about."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

RESOLUTION

Resolution offered by Supervisor John B. Mentink.

Resolved by the board of Supervisors of Oneida county, Wis., That whereas an organization self styled the "Taxpayers' Association" has made frequent attacks upon this Board, the County Highway Commissioner, and Committee, through local newspapers and other methods, which attacks relate particularly to the program of road building as directed by this Board and executed by the Committee and Commissioner, it is

Resolved, that it is the sense of this board that the rapidly increasing business of the county, so far as it comes before this Board, is conducted carefully, honestly, efficiently and economically, and that great faith is placed in our program for roads which is the best, the quickest, the cheapest method of giving the city and county the highways needed to its early development, and

Resolved, further that this Board has the utmost confidence in the ability, honesty and integrity of our Highway Commissioner and Committee and that the attacks made upon them are unjustified and unreasonable and personal, and due partly to a meager understanding of true conditions.

Resolved further, that the invitation of said association made thru the press, that the Board make a road inspection be accepted and that, at the conclusion of the business before us now, an adjournment be taken to some day within three weeks hereof; that on the day fixed this Board convene at the county seat, and make a two days inspection and comparison of roads of this county with those of adjoining counties, that said trip be substantially as follows:

Resolved further, that the County Highway Commissioner and Road Committee accompany this board and that a Committee representing the said Taxpayers' Association is hereby invited to do likewise. S. Miller and A. W. Brown, Secretary and President, respectively of said Association. Dated this 5th day of Sept., 1917. Offered and passage moved by JOHN B. MENTINK, Supervisor.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS START FALL TERM

Large Attendance In High School And All The Grades

The city schools opened Monday with a gratifying attendance in every department. Several of the grades have more pupils than they can accommodate in their rooms, but readjustments are being made as rapidly as possible.

The high school has as large attendance as ever before in its history. At the beginning of the week there were 270 pupils enrolled of which one hundred were boys and one hundred seventy were girls. These are divided into classes as follows: eighty-five freshmen, eighty-one sophomores, sixty-four juniors, and forty-two seniors. There are in the high school eleven boys and thirty-two girls from outside the city. This is an increase in tuition students of near forty per cent.

There are several boys desiring to enter school who would like places to stay where they can work for all or part of their board. Any one who can accommodate a boy of this type is requested to notify the superintendent of schools.

Miss Elizabeth Walter, the new teacher of music and drawing, is detained at home by illness. She will undoubtedly be here to assume her duties the first of the week.

Bismarck and No. 2
Bismarck Laid that three was the perfect number, for he had served three masters, he had three names, three oak leaves figure in his family arms, he was concerned in three wars, he signed three treaties of peace, in the Franco-Prussian war he had three horses killed under him, he brought about the meeting of three emperors, he was responsible for the triple alliance, he had three children, his family motto was "Strength in trinity," and caricaturists depicted him with three hairs on his head.
